1. Purpose

The purpose of Policy 104: Communication Policy for Student Progress and Synergy with Internal/External Partners, is to recognize that thoughtful communication is essential for building valuable school-student-family-community partnerships. These internal and external partnerships are essential for meaningful student progress and synergy between all partners in education. Internal and external communication is an opportunity to be used wisely to promote our unique identity, culture, language, celebrate our heritage, as well as share our principles, values, ethics, knowledges, and ways of being with each other.

2. Definitions

2.1	Active Listening	Active listening is the ability to focus completely on a speaker’s message, comprehend the information, interpret their intent, and respond thoughtfully.
2.2	Board Members	Includes both Trustees ( Elected Members ) and Ex-officio Members ( Portfolio Chiefs and the Director of Education ).
2.3	Culture	Culture is a way of being that defines and distinguishes a people or nation, as expressed through their customs, language, art ( stories, music, dance, visual arts, crafts ), cuisine, social institutions, achievements, and interaction with other peoples and nations.

Culture is composed of:

- Non-material aspects, including values, beliefs, customs, traditions and language, which influences our social norms, rules, and laws that govern our society.
- Material aspects are composed of items that we make and use as an expression of our identity, which includes a wide variety of things, from buildings, clothing, stories, music, dance, visual arts, crafts and many others.

(Paraphrased from Global Center for Pluralism, Canada & Thought Co.)

2.4 Communication An important act of sharing and/or transferring information and knowledge from one place, person, or group to another (the push and pull of messaging). The transmission of the message from sender to recipient is influenced by our emotions, cultural context, medium used to communicate and the accuracy of the message.

Forms of Communication

1. Verbal Communication

Verbal communication includes face to face, telephone, radio, television, and social media.

2. Non-Verbal Communication

Non-verbal communication includes body language, tone, timbre, eye contact, actions, attire, positioning in relation to others, and other subtle gestures.

3. Written Communication

Written communication includes formal communication from AMBE, such as letters, emails, reports, and school newsletters.

4. Visual Communication

Visual communication includes things such as all forms of art, dance, carvings, dress, cultural symbols, ceremonial objects, logos, advertising, infographics, websites, presentation packages, and illustrations.

2.5 External Partners External partners are those outside of the Akwesasne Community who have a vested interest and contribute to our schools and ultimately our students' success, including but not limited to governments, colleges, universities, consultants, corporations, suppliers, vendors, and media.

2.6 Internal Partners Internal partners fit into two groups:

- Those who are part of the internal AMBE Community including students, staff, families (parents/guardians), and Board Members; and
- Those who are part of the larger Akwesasne community, including Knowledge Keepers, Elders, community members and the MCA.

2.7 Knowledge Keepers and Elders It is recognized that among the Mohawks of Akwesasne there are individuals like Eminent Leaders and Elders, language and culture experts, Clan Mothers, Faith Keepers, etc., who possess unique and specific knowledge of Ahkwesáhsró:non culture and Kanien'keha language, whose knowledge should be preserved, revitalized, promoted and protected, and will be required in the development of curriculum.

academic and professional networks required for students to increase their potential for academic and professional success.

2.10 Synergy When the result of interaction and/or cooperation between internal/external partners is greater as a whole. For example, when students, the school team, families, and community work together the combined result is greater than the individual effort.

2.11 Timbre We each have a unique voice reflected through its timbre. It is one of the most important components of our identity. It carries the emotional content of our message, through subtle changes expressing intent and mood. For example, stress creates tension that affects the muscles that directly impact voice, usually causing it to go higher.
